

Pine Bluff Raps Arkla and PSC in Rate Raise

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The Pine Bluff City Council Monday night went on record against an Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. rate increase and charged the Public Service Commission with being hostile to a full inquiry in the matter.

In a resolution, the council contended that the PSC "precipitated act without full inquiry into the request of the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co." It said fairness would demand full and adequate public notice prior to the increase becoming effective in the absence of any emergency in Arkla's rate structure.

"It would seem that the commission members, in addition to being hasty in their action, are openly hostile to a full hearing in the matter, even to the extent of threatening dire consequences of further rate increases would the public, acting through the municipalities, have the temerity to oppose an increase," the resolution said.

Pine Bluff has taken the lead in opposing Arkla's increase in its minimum service charge from $1.00 to $1.50 a month. The increase took effect April 1, but was not widely noticed until April 25.

PSC Chairman Lewis Robinson warned at a hearing Friday that a full rate study could bring even further increases, should an analysis show that the company's earnings are low.

The rate increase was linked to an Arkla proposal to standardize franchise fees it pays to cities. The franchise proposal is still pending but the rate increase took effect without PSC action.

The Pine Bluff resolution declared that the PSC's position was "not in keeping with the purpose for which the PSC was created."

Today, the city attorney for Russellville said a protest it had filed against the rate increase was withdrawn "to keep from making Will Stephens mad." Stephens heads the Arkla empire.

City Atty. James K. Young said members of the Russellville Chamber of Commerce Industrial Development Committee asked to have the protest withdrawn after talking with Stephens. That protest, had it remained, would have prevented the boost from taking effect automatically.

Asks Reward Case Be Dismissed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Little Rock Chamber of Commerce asked Chancellor Guy E. Williams Monday to throw out the lawsuit of four Little Rock teenagers seeking to claim the $25,000 reward money offered for apprehension and conviction of the city's 1959 Labor Day bombers.

The chamber said in its brief that donors to the reward fund are "justly indignant at the wholly groundless charge" of the four that the chamber may declare that no claimants are qualified and that the money will be returned to the donors.

The chamber collected the reward money by subscription after the integration-linked bombings. Five men were arrested in the three bombings and four were sent to prison.

The four, Erwin Lee Main, Glenn D. Mulherin, Roy Lee Spill and Marlene DeVall, said they were sitting in a car near the Little Rock School Board offices the night of the bombings and saw a man run away and jump into a car.

Their suit contended that they had filed claims for shares in the reward but that the chamber had refused them. The chamber said Monday that 11 persons had filed claims for the reward and that two of them had said that they believed their lives, the lives of their families and their jobs would be in jeopardy if they were publicly identified as successful claimants.

The chamber said the lawsuit, if tried, would bring their names into the open.

County Clubs Join National Observance

The Hempstead County Home Demonstration Club women are joining with over 32,000 other women in Arkansas to observe National Home Demonstration Week April 30 to May 6. Eight, and a half million women in the 50 states and Puerto Rico will take part in the observance.

Hempstead County has 235 members in 17 clubs. Mrs. C. C. Parker of Arkadelphia is the District Director and Miss Dorothy Price is the District Home Demonstration Agent. Mrs. Lester Kent is the president of the Hempstead County Council, Mrs. A. B. King, vice-president; Mrs. Roy Seewald, secretary; and Mrs. Troy Burson, Sr. secretary.

Activities this week in Hempstead County will include window displays, three minute radio tapes by presidents and county leaders, Spring Fashion Review on Tuesday, May 2 at 2:00 in the Saenger Theater, and a Tri-County Tour Day to Howard County on Friday, May 5.

Home Demonstration Club women still put home building first, but methods and equipment have changed, and many new skills have been learned by the women in the 47 years since the first clubs were formed. Arkansas club women are still sewing, canning, and gardening, but the 1961 HD member also learns arts and crafts, budgeting and nutrition, interior decoration and furniture refinishing, landscaping, recreation, and many other useful skills.

And just as the club program has changed, the role of the county home demonstration agent has changed, too. At one time, older members say, she "used the tin can to open the kitchen door, and once inside worked her way through the house, leaving evidence of the home demonstration program in every room, and on every member of the family." Home demonstration agents, in addition to their work with women in organized groups, assist other homemakers through special interest workshops, demonstrations, home visits, tours, bulletins and other ways. The agents demonstrate new methods, visit families to advise on individual plans and problems, appear on radio and television programs, and write newspaper articles to describe and show more efficient practices.

The Home Demonstration Club program has come through a series of changes, but the ultimate aid is to help Arkansas women to make better homes for themselves and their families.

Aerial Pirate Who Likes the Cuban Leader Forces a U.S. Airliner to Fly Him to Cuba

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An aerial pirate, armed with a steak knife and pistol and flaunting the name of an old-time buccaner, hijacked an American airliner over Florida Monday and forced it to fly to Cuba.

While seven frightened passengers sat frozen to their seats, the self-proclaimed "El Pirata Cofresi" told the pilot that Rafael Trujillo, Dominican Republic strongman, had offered him $100,000 blood money to assassinate Fidel Castro.

But he had no intention of carrying out the mission, he said, because he considered Castro a "good guy" and wanted to "spill the beans" to him.

When the shanghaied, two-engine National Airlines plane landed at an airport near Havana, Castro militiamen hustled the man away to an uncertain fate. Then the plane was permitted to return to Florida.

The FBI and other government agencies pressed an investigation today to determine the real name of Cofresi, and exactly what he was up to.

"El Pirata Cofresi" means "The Pirate Cofresi," a notorious freebooter who sailed the Caribbean and West Indies area in the early 19th century. In buying his ticket here for the scheduled Miami-to-Key West run, the gunman had first given his name as "Mr. Cofresi, Elpir." Then he told the ticket clerk that the letters "ata" should be added to the "clpir."

The plane had just taken off from an intermediate stop at Marathon, a Florida key, when the hijacker went into action.

A slim, unshaven man wearing dark sun glasses and a straw hat, he slipped into the cockpit and placed a knife at the throat of the pilot.

Tax Take Up $370,755

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas taxpayers paid $12,440,296 in state revenues in April, Revenue Commissioner Orville Cheney said Monday. That was an increase of $370,755 over the same month last year.

There was a $145,188 increase in state income tax, a $131,175 increase in horse race taxes, and a $138,996 increase in gasoline tax collections.

Special revenues were up $100,958 to $3,900,654, and general revenues increased $263,796 to $8,539,642.

Collections for the first 10 months of the fiscal year ending June 30 total $127,143,114, an increase of $6,226,506 over the same period last year.

Gas Firm Plans to Cut Rates

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Missouri Power Co., which provides gas and electricity to much of northeast Arkansas, next month will cut its electric rates 17 cents a month and its gas rates 2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

The Arkansas Public Service Commission announced the rate cut Monday. It said the company made $21,000 more than its allowable profit last year.

The gas rate cut will affect relatively few customers, since it will apply only to those who use over 20,000 cubic feet per month. The PSC said the electric rate cut will mean 17 cents to each customer.

Ark-Mo has about 18,792 domestic and 3,611 commercial and industrial customers in the north east section of the state. Included in the electric system are Blytheville, Manila, Leachville, Imboden, Corning, Osceola and Walnut Ridge. Osceola is tied to the gas system.

The company has its offices in Blytheville, but serves many Missouri customers, who also will get their rates cut through an interstate arrangement.

The electric rate reduction covers 34 kilowatt hours of power use, the second step up on a graduated scale of electric power charges.

PSC Chairman Lewis M. Robinson said the commission worked in cooperation with Blytheville Mayor Toler Buchanan in studying the company's rates. A citizens committee at Blytheville has been demanding a rate cut there. Buchanan several months ago called for a cooling off period in the rate dispute between the group and the company.

Assured No Action Yet on Shumaker

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas members of Congress have been assured they will be consulted before any action is taken toward disposing of the Shumaker Naval Ordnance Depot at Cummer, Ark.

General Services Administrator John L. Moore Monday told Sens. John L. McClellan, J. W. Fulbright and Rep. Oren Harris, Arkansas Democrats, that the GSA will continue evaluation of several different proposals. Moore told them a further report will be provided to the delegation "prior to our next conference and prior to any further action."

No date was set for another conference, McClellan said, but the Arkansas, in a statement, said Monday's meeting was "an initial conference."

The International Paper Co. has been awarded four of the eight parcels of land mostly timberland, and agreed it will make no efforts to dismantle and salvage any plant property for three years.

Several bids were submitted for the four parcels containing the plant. High bidder was Brown and Root, a Texas concern. GSA has bid its original bid by $250,000 to a total of $4,625,399 or 79 percent of the appraised value.

Shumaker, an ammunition depot during World War II, was declared surplus by the government a year ago. Recently GSA received bids for sale of the property. Arkansas interests want the huge plant to be used for industry.

International has said it will try to attract industry to the plant. Brown-Root said it would do everything possible, but local interests have been urging that before GSA awards the plant to Brown and Root it seek a commitment similar to that given by International regarding salvage of plant and equipment.

Cuba Deeper in Red Fold, No More Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today declared Cuba has become a member of the Communist bloc and accused Fidel Castro of a rule even more "Communist" than other Iron Curtain countries.

Under Castro's proclamation that Cuba is a "Socialist" state, a U.S. statement said, Castro is using the same term that the Soviets and others use to describe themselves. Furthermore, Castro is going the Communists "one better," the statement said, by: 1. Putting an official end to elections in Cuba. The other Red countries normally at least go through the form of holding elections even though the voters don't have a choice of candidates.

By NEIL GILBRIDE

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro today put Cuba deep into the sphere of international communism, proclaiming a Socialist state, ruling out elections and clapping harsh new restrictions on the Roman Catholic Church.

Cuban masses filled Havana's Civic Plaza for a mammoth May Day demonstration and roared their assent when Castro insisted on Cuba's right to choose its own political and social future despite United States disapproval.

"We will not even discuss that subject," said Castro, whose audience was estimated by Havana television commentators at three million. The telecast was monitored in Key West, 90 miles from Havana.

The multitude screamed "No, no" when Castro asked, "Do you need elections?" He said Cuba will do without them. Calling priests "the exploiters who came in the name of God," Castro announced that church schools will be nationalized in a few days and foreign-born clergymen will be expelled from Cuba.

Referring to several captured invaders identified as priests, and blaming the United States for fostering the ill-fated April 17 attack on his regime, Castro warned that U.S. cities are "in danger of becoming another Hiroshima."

He said churches will be allowed to remain open.

Castro said it was a historic May Day because workers who

McClellan Favors Hearings on TV

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., calls for televised Congressional committee hearings in an article he wrote for this month's TV Guide magazine.

He said television hearings insure that the committee's proceedings will be fair. "Committee members will likely exercise greater care to see that the rights of witnesses are not infringed upon and that the proceedings are conducted with decorum and purpose."

He added that it is "harder for a witness to get away with a lie when the hearing is televised, because a person who knows the truth might get in touch with the committee."

New Type of Rice Is Released

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new variety of rice—known as Belle Patna — has been released to certified seed dealers by the government this year.

It is the earliest known variety for Southern areas. In a three-year test, this rice matured in an average of 108 days from seeding time—about 18 days ahead of the next earliest variety, Century Patna 231.

Early maturity is advantageous in irrigated areas because it frees water for other crops.

Barge Service on Red River Has ICC Okay

WASHINGTON — An interstate Commerce Commission examiner today recommended that the Heart of Texas Transportation Company at Fort Worth be authorized to operate a jet-propelled barge line service between Denton, Tex., and New Orleans.

The plan, the first of its kind to be submitted to ICC, involves the use of towboats propelled by hydrojets which force water out of a nozzle at the rate of 3,000 gallons a minute.

The Company proposes to use such tugs in a new operation between points on the Red River in Louisiana and Texas and the New Orleans area.

Barney Holland, a Texas oilman, is operator of the Company. He said he would use two ports in Arkansas—Garland City (Miller County) and Fulton (Hempstead County).

The operation would be based at Shreveport.

The examiner who reviewed the proposal, James H. Gaffney, said large portions of the Red River were classed as non-navigable by conventional vessels, but the jet-propelled tugs had been operated easily over shallow portions of the river in tests conducted by the company.

City to Up Per Meter Gas Taxes

Hope's Board of Directors yesterday ordered a new franchise ordinance drawn up which would double the taxes of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company in Hope.

The current city tax runs about a dollar per meter for approximately 3,000 meters. The new ordinance sets the tax at $2.00 per meter or $6,000.

This action was taken following the controversial increase in service charge rates by Arkla. This charge amounts to 70 cents per customer per month and has been attacked by several Arkansas cities. The extra charge went into effect April 1.

Apparently the City of Hope doesn't plan to protest the rate increase.

In other action the city will look into the cost of opening a street from Highway 67, south of Fair park, near the west city limits.

U.S. Try to Send Man Into Space Delayed

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Bad weather forced postponement today of America's first man-in-space shot and the chosen astronaut, Alan B. Shepard Jr., must wait at least 48 hours before he takes his rocket ride into the heavens and the history books.

Announcement that Shepard, lean, muscular, 37-year-old Navy commander, had been chosen for the daring adventure came simultaneously with a report that unfavorable weather had spoiled a try this morning to launch him 115 miles into space aboard a Redstone rocket.

The backup astronaut, to take Shepard's place in the 3,000-pound Project Mercury space capsule if he is unable to go when the time comes, is John H. Glenn Jr., 30, a Marine lieutenant colonel.

Shepard had donned his pressure suit and sat in a hangar at the missile test center, sweating out the moment when he would be called to embark on the most thrilling voyage ever taken by an American.

Observers reported that he sat quietly, outwardly calm, and eager to be the man who would challenge the Soviet feat of blasting a man into the weightless void beyond the atmosphere of the earth.

In the coming 48 hours, physicians will keep Shepard under constant surveillance to see how he bears up under the mounting tension. A physical or psychological disorder would sideline him in favor of Glenn, who also will remain under observation in the Cape ready room.

If Shepard still is in good condition, mentally and physically, at the next scheduled launch time, Continued on Page Two

Declares U.S. Cities Must Make Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. business community must assume new responsibilities and accept some revolutionary changes to help the developing nations, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said today.

In an address prepared for the annual meeting of the D. S. Chamber of Commerce, Hodges said:

"If we are to grasp the chance we have today to assist the developing countries toward progress, freedom and justice, we are going to need a truly combined effort. Government alone cannot do this job."

Hodges' appeal for help from the business leaders in meeting the Communist economic offensive came after the chamber had heard a warning from its president, Arthur H. Motley.

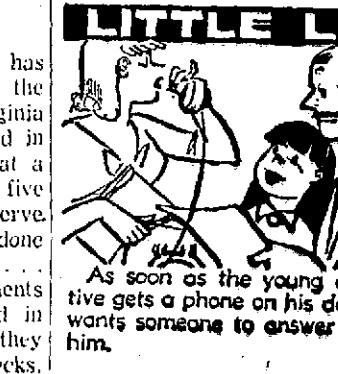

Motley, publisher of Parade magazine, told 3,000 delegates at the opening of the chamber's 49th annual meeting that the misdeeds of a few businessmen can blight the whole free enterprise system. Motley said it is not the chamber's function to enforce the antitrust laws, but "our free market economic system demands protection against such violations as the recently exposed price-fixing conspiracy" of electrical equipment manufacturers.

Hodges, in his luncheon address reminded the delegates of the U. S. opportunities for countering the Soviet economic challenge.

"It seems to me that far too many of us today think about our dangers, and tend to forget our opportunities. The Communist economic offensive is very real, very large and foreboding," Hodges said.

"But its reality and proportions should not blind us to the fact that we, too, have a tremendous opportunity to assist the people of less-developed nations toward sustained economic growth under the banner of freedom."

Motley, in his opening address, said the antitrust laws are a proper form of government regulation and must be obeyed.

small, silver-plated pistol and or-

Taking the pilot's seat and turning off the radio, he said:
"Let's go to Havana."
Pilot Riley related: "He kept

The final countdown began at 12:30 a.m. but prospects were never good. A heavy cloud cover over the Cape and down along the 200 miles of the missile range over which the Redstone was to fly brought frowns to the faces of Project Mercury scientists.
They needed clear visibility so that in the critical moments after the blastoff they could have good visual tracking and be ready to trigger Shepard's escape mechanism at the first hint of any trouble.

While scientists and physicians checked everything from the working parts of the rocket to the functioning of Shepard's heart, weather men looked hopefully for a break in the overcast.

But weather conditions did not change and at 7:40 a.m. the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the shot was off until at least Thursday.

"No new launch date has been set," said the announcement, "but the minimum recycle time is 48 hours. The pilot will remain in the crew quarters in the NASA Mercury hangar here."

The rocket crew was 2 hours and 20 minutes away from its zero target when the decision to postpone was reached. The count had been halted several times in the hope that favorable weather would come.

Fuel had poured into the Red-stone's tanks. But for that, another try might have been made Wednesday. It will take two days after the tanks are emptied to prepare them again for a shoot.

Provisional End to Fight in Laos

By JOHN GRIFFIN

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—A truce meeting between a government officer and a Pathet Lao rebel major has brought a provisional end to fighting on the front 45 miles north of here, Gen. Phou-mi Nosavan said today.

He reported that the two officers met Monday afternoon and fighting had halted "provisionally and theoretically" by 5 p.m.

Foreign Minister Tiao Sopsaisana said the Cabinet was encouraged to hope that the contact could lead to an over-all cease-fire, first step to ending civil war between the Communist-backed rebels and the government forces.

The government's truce emissary went to a point just north of Vang Khy, a town on the front. It was his second attempt to make contact with the rebels.

Top Laotian government and American military officials joined the meeting Monday night, one informed source said.

Prince Boun Oum's Cabinet met in Vientiane today to discuss the situation.

There was still grave doubt in many quarters in Vientiane that a cease-fire would result. Some observers suggested that the rebels have agreed to the battlefield meeting for propaganda purposes.

There was a feeling that the Pathet Lao might lay down conditions for a cease-fire that the Western-backed government would find unacceptable. One likely demand was for the immediate withdrawal of Americans who have been serving as military advisers to the royal regime.

drama. "To Kill a Mockingbird," the first novel of Harper Lee, 35,

The public service award was

Thomas Hazzard Thompson, which resulted in a law enforcement shakeup and election of a

If the blastoff does not come by Saturday, there will be an indefinite delay, NASA officials said.
Ships swarming over the recovery area, ready to pick up the space capsule after it plunges into the sea, would have to return to port for fuel, food and other supplies.

If Shepard was calm, as was reported, his were the only quiet nerves around Cape Canaveral.
Tension had mounted, especially among the dedicated Project Mercury people who had worked hard toward this day.

Announcement of the postponement, heard on car radios, brought a letdown to the thousands who had gone to the beaches outside the missile test center, hoping to be on hand for the great moment when one of their own countrymen would soar aloft on the path that will lead eventually to the moon and perhaps beyond.

While a brief suborbital flight by Shepard would not equal the feat of the Soviet's Yuri A. Gagarin, who made an orbit of the earth, it would be a major step toward overtaking the huge space lead built up by the early starting Soviets.

The U.S. timetable calls for a man in orbit later this year, in a capsule to be hurled aloft by an Atlas, a much more powerful missile than the Redstone.

But the Redstone flight will make heavy demands on the mental and physical strength of a man. It will subject him to crushing pressures reaching up to 11 times gravity on the return to earth and will give him five minutes of the weird feeling of weight-lessness. It will determine his reaction to speeds up to 5,000 miles an hour in the cramped environment of the capsule.

A bell-shaped device nine feet tall and six feet across its rounded base is the space ship, and its interior is as familiar to the seven American astronauts as their living rooms. They have had numerous practice runs in its close quarters and have memorized its maze of lights, dials and switches.

Toughened by hours in low pressure chambers, wind tunnels, whirling centrifuges, hot and cold rooms, and supersonic jets, Shepard was reported today to be in superb condition for eventual flight.

When the time comes, he will know that every precaution has been taken to minimize the dangers, but that the first step into space can never be taken without some risk to his life.

State Loses to Mississippians

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State got only three hits off Mississippi State right-hander Sam Ellis Monday, and fell 6-1 to the Maroons in a college baseball game. They meet again here today.

The Maroons got two runs in the third inning on a single by Hal Green, and rallied for four runs in the ninth. Roy Johnson tripled and Ellis singled in that flurry.
Tommy Paul smacked a 350-foot homer in the seventh for Arkansas State's lone run.

of years the Wolverette has lettered.

The crowd broke into the Cuban

Tension Mounts in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Tension continued today at Warmbaths, a small resort town about 100 miles north of Johannesburg, after a night of clashes between police and Africans striking against a white official. Early reports said two Africans were killed and four injured when police opened fire on a mob. Later the police said only one African was killed and two were hospitalized.

Nation Seeks Divine Guidance

KINGS POINT, N. Y. (AP)—President Kennedy says "our nation has ever sought divine guidance in its hours of thanksgiving and its moment of peril." He sent a message for today's dedication of an interfaith chapel at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy here on Long Island.

Pride Goes Before Fall

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am a high school senior with above average marks until this term when I received a C in two major subjects. My ambition is to go to college and become a teacher.

There were cheaters in my class. Being upset, I asked my teacher to crack down on them. She retested us on a certain book. The habitual cheaters didn't pass. Word spread that I started the trouble. I felt justified, even happy.

Today the most awful thing happened. We had a substitute teacher test us on another book. Inadvertently I held up my paper to check my answers, not realizing that the boy next to me was copying from it. The substitute saw and reported it to the regular teacher. The boy and I got zero.

I tried to explain to both teachers and left in tears. The boy told them he cribbed without my knowledge. Neither believes us. My regular teacher was to have written a letter of recommendation for me to the college I hope to attend. She is an alumna. I feel

Storms Are Tapering Off a Bit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first day of May saw wintery crispness in the Northeast and the Upper Plains. There was contrasting sultriness in the South. Albany, N.Y., marked a low temperature record for the date—28 degrees. The coldest May 1 reading had been 29 in 1878. Other freezing early morning lows in New York State included Massena 29, Utica 30, and Poughkeepsie 31.

Even colder were the 17 at Huron and the 18 at Watertown in South Dakota. Bismarck, N.D., had a low of 20.

There were showers in the Plains and from eastern Texas to the Middle Atlantic region after a turbulent night in the South Central sections. Two persons were killed in a violent Texas storm which caused damage estimated at $2 million.

The severe thunderstorms across parts of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri and north Texas caused extensive property damage. The storms were set off in a clash of warm moist air from the south and cold air from the north.

Several twisters touched down in Oklahoma, destroying several homes. Heavy damage was reported at the North Tulsa Airport by a tornado or tornadic winds, while twisters were sighted from Seydon near the Texas Panhandle to as far east as Tulsa. No serious injuries were reported.

Heavy hail hit many areas, including Oklahoma City, El Seno and Ponca City, Okla., and Wichita Falls, Tex. A tornado struck near Springdale, Ark., in a hail storm, and a twister also was sighted near Maple City, Kan.

Winds up to 80 m.p.h. lashed Denton, a north Texas city of about 27,000 population, in a severe thunderstorm, injuring 16 persons and causing heavy property damage. The storm struck the downtown business district and swept into residential areas. Stormy weather was reported across a vast section of north Texas.

Showers and thundershowers hit areas east of the storm belt through Kentucky, Tennessee, the Virginias and North Carolina.

Tshombe to Be Taken to Leopoldville

By PETER GROSE

COQUILHATVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Prompt transfer to Leopoldville is expected for President Moise Tshombe of Katanga, arrested by the Congolese central government in a new try at unifying the country's provincial factions.

Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko said Tshombe will be kept under house arrest indefinitely while the central government pursues its policy of ending all threats to nationwide stability.

Tshombe's secessionist government at Elisabethville sent word Sunday that he should return to the unity talks he stormed away from in disagreement with other Congolese leaders last Wednesday. That act of defiance caused the Congo army to hold him, in hopes of preserving the conference.

"This is no time for hesitation and delaying actions," said Bomboko. The young foreign minister said it was too late now for Tshombe to rejoin the talks.

"Even if he came to an agreement with us, he could later claim it was made under constraint," Bomboko explained. "Tshombe came to Coquilhatville with the idea of ruining the conference. He did not want to collaborate. Under conditions like this we have prevented him from leaving."

The humiliated Katanga president, in recent months considered the strongest man in the Congo, walked out on the conference because President Joseph Kasavubu of the Leopoldville central government agreed to cooperate with the U. N. command by demanding the exit of all foreign advisers not connected with the United Nations.

Tshombe's own army is largely officered by white mercenaries. The civilian advisers surrounding him are mostly Belgians. His mineral-rich province has been able to stand on its own.

The Coquilhatville conference decided that Kasavubu should take "immediate necessary measures to rid Katanga of occupation by mercenaries and harmful foreign elements."

Bomboko explained that eventual dismantling of "all private armies" aside from Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu's national army—applies as well to the forces under Antoine Gienga in rebel Oriental and Kivu provinces.

In its plans to restore Congo unity, the conference also approved fully Kasavubu's accord with the U. N. command. It asked Kasavubu to force the expulsion of all foreign diplomats—chiefly Communist—in Gienga's capital at Stanleyville who are not accredited in Leopoldville.

Crucial Year in Foreign Policy Plans

WASHINGTON (Special)—The Kennedy administration, will be faced next year with a crucial, far-reaching decision about the future of the United States space program, according to informed officials who took part in a just-concluded foreign policy conference.

The problem is whether to push ahead all-out in a crash attempt to beat the Russians in landing the first man on the moon.

The cost of this emergency effort is variously estimated at 20 to 40 billion dollars. And it might end in failure.

The administration is of course "occupied with the cost," officials said. It wonders whether the American people are willing to shoulder such an additional burden in the face of a substantial risk of coming out second best again.

In concrete terms, the President's problem is whether to begin now developing a gigantic new rocket called the Nova.

The Russians are expected to put a man on the moon in 1967. With the Nova, we might be able to do it in 1967 or 1968.

The Nova would be capable of building up to 20 million pounds of thrust. Its first stage would be powered by a cluster of F-1 engines, one engine chamber of which is capable of developing as much power as the entire first stage of Saturn, our present most advanced rocket.

President Eisenhower had made a definite decision not to go ahead at this time with the development of the Nova, officials said.

But President Kennedy has reversed this decision. He is now making a thorough re-examination of the whole matter, and expects to reach a decision of his own— one way or the other—in the budget for the fiscal year 1963.

A special committee headed by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson—who chaired a space committee when he was in the Senate—is assisting the President in this re-examination.

Officials indicated that President Kennedy was putting appreciably more interest and time into the United States space program

THE STORY: Jim Bennett, a private detective, did not like Laura Reynolds when he met her. Laura is to be married in a couple of days to Jim's friend Max Dane. Jim has discovered Laura and Julius Stockmaster, a writer who poses as a deaf mute but who can both hear and talk, in a touching love scene.

CHAPTER XIV

Poor Max. I would call his hotel again and give him the facts. It would be a mess, to say the least. However, if the wedding were cancelled, Mrs. Dane would certainly be pleased and so would Dixie McQueen, if she thought she still had a chance with Max. And it would please me. I didn't want Max to marry Laura Reynolds, not after what I'd seen and heard.

I decided to talk to Cecil before I called Max. He was alone in the little room where we'd played poker, picking up scraps of blue paper which I assumed bore the written messages between him and William Darmody. He looked up and saw me standing in the hall just outside the door.

"Where's your buddy?" I asked him.

"Mr. Darmody? He has retired, sir."

I gazed at him thoughtfully. Sometimes his mocking subservient manner irritated me, especially when he was alone with Max.

RANK KNAVERY

PITTSBURGH (AP) A fireman at Pittsburgh's No. 12 Engine House wasn't so clever after all.

One night he brought a nice corned beef sandwich to work. He put it in a refrigerator in a bag. Hoping to discourage thievery, he wrote the captain's name on the bag.

Later, he returned and found the sandwich gone and this message written on the bag: "Hunger knows no rank."

(than President Eisenhower had done.)

The following figures, representing space expenditures for the last few fiscal years, show the increasing emphasis which the government has placed on this area:

1960 — $523 million.
1961 — $19 million.
1962 — $1110 million (Eisenhower).

1962 — $1235 million (Kennedy). Our entire space effort has been co-ordinated since 1958 under the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, an amalgamation of several pre-existing agencies.

NASA is a civilian agency, and its organic law requires that the public be fully informed of its failures as well as its successes.

Often what the public is told has been a failure is not in fact, officials explained. NASA intentionally sets its target dates for completion of various projects earlier than could reasonably be expected, in order to get the maximum effort out of its employees.

"She hasn't been cool to me, Cecil said. "In fact, she winked at me."

I eyed him sternly. "Remember your place, my good man. To Be Continued"

Roberts Drops 4th, Phils Go Back to Cellar

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

After an explosive weekend that produced a no-hitter by Warren Spahn and a four-home run outburst by Willie Mays, baseball fell back into the old routine Monday night—Philadelphia once more gave Robin Roberts just two runs, Robin lost his fourth without a victory and the Phils plunked back into the National League cellar.

Roberts, after a hopeful spring in which he ran up a string of 24 shutout exhibition innings, lost 3-2 at Cincinnati with the winning run unearned. In each of Robin's four defeats, the Phils have scored just two runs.

It was the only game scheduled in the NL and one of but two played in the majors. In the American League, the Minnesota Twins beat the Chicago White Sox 6-5 on a ninth-inning run. The only other game scheduled, New York at Washington, was rained out.

The Reds, jumping back to seventh place with their second in a row after losing eight straight, beat Roberts with a tie-breaking run in the fourth inning. An error by shortstop Ruben Amaro and singles by Leo Cardenas and Don Blasingame did it.

It was the third consecutive hit for Blasingame, the second baseman acquired from San Francisco last week, after going 0-for-12 this season.

Jim O'Toole was the winner for a 2-2 record, blanking the Phils on one hit over the last three innings and finishing with a six-hitter. He struck out nine and walked just two—giving up both passes in the sixth inning. A double play got him out of the jam.

Roberts, suffering his second straight defeat by an unearned run, allowed 10 hits, walked one and struck out five in his seven innings. All the Reds' hits were singles, except for a home run and double by Gordie Coleman.

A single by Jim Lemon and a ninth-inning tie for the Twins against losing reliever Turk Lown (0-2) of the White Sox. Ray Moore (2-1) was the winner with one perfect inning of relief. Harmon Killebrew homered for the Twins' first two runs, off starter Frank Baumann. The Sox counted their first three off Chuck Stobbs on homers by Jim Landis, Al Smith and Camilo Carreon.

Swimming Team Here Thursday

Photo above is a scene from one of the 14 synchronized swimming compositions, to be presented by the Texas Women's University Swimming Team, at the Hope Municipal Pool on Thurs. night May 4th, at 8:00 P.M. Last season's performance by this team was attended by a crowd of over 1,000 persons.

Portable bleachers will be erected with plenty of seating space available.

Tickets are being sold at 25c each by members of the local Synchronized Swimming Team and the public is urged to buy these tickets to help defray the expenses of this fine team. The team travels on an expense paid basis only and any money saved by the ticket sales can be used for development of our local Swimming Program.

Weather Slows Play in Southern

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Damp, chilly weather curtailed southern association activity sharply Monday night and cut total attendance at the two games played to 674 hardy fans, but it did nothing to cool the sizzling clutch bats of two members of the Mobile Bears.

Lou Holdener pinch-hit a three-run homer to cap a six-run inning and pull cellarite Mobile even with Shreveport at 7-7. And Jerry Mallett climaxed the grand comeback with a two-run clout in the 12th inning that gave the Bears a 9-7 verdict. It was Shreveport's seventh successive loss.

Oscar Chinque, Nashville's fugitive from the bull pen, recorded his third straight victory and his second route-going performance in the Vols' 9-3 decision over Birmingham. Atlanta, Little Rock, Macon and Chattanooga were rained out.

Holdener ruined the strategy of Shreveport manager Les Peden with one swing of his bat in the big Mobile rally in the eighth inning. With three runs in and two men on base, Peden chose to switch pitchers when holdener, a right-handed hitter, appeared as a pinch hitter. Out came lefty Bill Kirk and in walked veteran right-hander Allan Romberger. Holdener clouted Romberger's first pitch out of Hartwell Field, and the score was tied at 7-7.

Shreveport built a 7-1 lead with two-run homers by Ronnie Hogg in the fourth and Frank Cipriani in the seventh supplying much of the cushion. Until the big eighth, Mobile's lone run was a homer by Chuck Coles.

Mallett's homer, a 370-foot drive with a runner on base, ended the Freejohns' 11-17 lead.

Scrimmage for Porkers Wednesday

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks get a respite from the spring football practice field today, but they go back to work for a grueling defensive scrimmage Wednesday.

Coach Frank Broyles said he wasn't satisfied with the team's defensive play in last Saturday's intra-squad game. He viewed the films over the weekend, and vowed to teach some defense before Saturday's important Red-White game here.

The Hogs worked on defense in a routine session Monday. They rest today. Wednesday, they'll scrimmage with the first two units on defense and the third and fourth teams running the ball.

Quarterback George McKinney will not see contact work this week because of a swollen right elbow. He has water on the elbow, but it isn't considered serious. He'll play Saturday Broyles said.

Korean Sentenced for Vote Rigging

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Chun Sung-chun, a spokesman for the Syngman Rhee regime, was sentenced today to two years in prison for his role in the rigged presidential election in March of 1960.

The prosecution had demanded a five-year term. Chun was charged with using government funds to publish a campaign biography of Rhee's running mate, Lee Ki-poong.

The court said Chun's role in shutting down a leading opposition daily, the Kyunghyang Shinmun, in the last days of Rhee's rule was not taken into account in passing the judgment.

Police said three persons were arrested for allegedly plotting violent overthrow of the government, but called their plan a daydream.
